

Patriot Robert Moody

Robert Moody, Sr. was born about 1755 to Robert Moody born about 1697 and Ann Moody of Virginia. Mr. Moody immigrated to South Carolina and served in the 6th South Carolina Regiment during the Revolutionary War. He enlisted on December 14, 1778. After the war he was active in real estate as a buyer and seller and acquired over a thousand acres of land on both sides of the Little Pee Dee River in South Carolina. He was a slave owner. He primarily farmed cotton and possibly indigo. He married Estes Elvington and continued to live in Marian County, South Carolina until his death on August 22, 1810. He had 10 children. Doctor Tillman Daniel is the descendant of their third son James Moody.
